MR. AND MRS. J. C. SMYTH ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Fashionable Society Is Much Interested in Celebration of Several Prominent Weddings.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Smyth entertained at a small dinner last evening in their apartment at Monroe Terrace in honor of several out-of-town friends. Covers were laid for eight, and Mr. and Mrs. Smyth had as their guests Mr. George J. Bull, of Paris, France; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Sande, Mr. Beresford, of London, England; Count Rene de Montjou, of Paris, France; and Mr. Kehlan, of London, England. The table was set with a centerpiece of pink roses.

Weddings To-Day.
Fashionable society is much interested in the celebration of a number of prominent weddings to-day. The marriage of Miss Caroline Talbot Armstrong, daughter of Mrs. Adeline Talbot Armstrong and the late Westwood S. Armstrong, to Roy Meriwether Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Catesby Jones, also of Richmond, will be celebrated very quietly this morning at 11 o'clock in the apartment of the bride's mother at 211 East Franklin Street. Although only the immediate families of the bride and groom will witness the ceremony, the wedding is one of the leading social events of the fall season.

Another interesting ceremony is that of Miss Margaret Burnett Taddley, daughter of Mrs. Everett Wadley, to James Boyley, son of W. W. Boyley, of Roanoke, which is to take place at the residence of the bride, 1816 Monument Avenue, this evening at 6 o'clock. A number of guests from a distance are in Richmond for the wedding, and a large reception will follow the ceremony.

Dance at the Jefferson.
The dancing set in Richmond is discussing over the tea cups with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm the announcement that early in December the Jefferson Hotel will begin a series of dances that will be continued throughout the season. The dancing will be under the direction of Miss French Patton, who will give exhibition dances as well, and these affairs promise to be among the most exclusive and charming social events of the season. Miss Caroline Coleman will have charge of the invitations for these dances, and a string of orchestra will play each evening for the dancing. Dancing has become such a craze in the past several seasons that smart society is no longer satisfied with the balls and dinner dances and similar functions in private houses and ballrooms, but must needs have recourse to large halls, where one may drop in with a party of friends, following dinner and dance an hour or so, or give a party of their own and dance the entire afternoon. The new dances to syncopated music are the all-absorbing topic of conversation, and the dances at the hotels in Richmond have grown to be of great interest. The date of the first dance, under Miss Patton's direction at the Jefferson, will be announced later.

Miss Charity Bassett.
One of the annual society events of the year is the big charity bazaar that takes place each fall in the Westhampton Schoolhouse under the direction and patronage of the Women's Guild of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. This season the affair will be held on November 21, from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, and those going out from Richmond may take Westhampton cars, getting off at Stop 12-2. Some of the leading women of Richmond and the fashionable suburbs belong to the guild, and its officers are: Mrs. J. C. Smyth, president; Mrs. James C. Smyth, first vice-president; Mrs. Gordon Wallace, second vice-president; Mrs. M. P. Truman, secretary; Mrs. St. George Anderson, treasurer; and Mrs. J. C. Smyth, corresponding secretary.

Brown-Cullingsworth.
Quintilles of fragrant flowers and lighted candles, against a background of Southern smilax and palms, decorated the home of Mrs. Clara Lester Cullingsworth yesterday evening at 6 o'clock for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Phoebe Cullingsworth, to Mr. Leroy Brown, Jr., Rev. E. T. McFadden, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiating. The mantels were banked in ferns and smilax, and the drawing-rooms were arranged with yellow flowers and palms. The staircase, down which the bride and her attendants came, was festooned with pinosa apparatus and baskets of yellow roses decorated the hall. An orchestra, screened by palms, rendered the wedding music.

The bride entered with her uncle, Harvey H. Yarrington, who gave her away. She wore a wedding gown of white satin, finished with Venetian lace and made with a court train. Her veil of illusion was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Lucille Cullingsworth, who was her sister's maid of honor, was gowned in white chamoise, with an overdress of gold lace. She carried a basket shower bouquet of Lady Huntington roses. The bridesmaids, Misses Etta Yarrington, of Austin, Texas, and Louise Yarrington, of this city, wore similar costumes of gold chamoise and gold tulle drapery, and their flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. Clarence Brown, brother of the groom, was best man. The ribbons were held by little Margaret Freeman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen W. Freeman, and John Swartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Swartz. The little girl wore a white lace frock with a yellow sash, and the little boy an Oliver Twist suit of white cloth.

Mrs. Cullingsworth, who received with the bride party after the ceremony, wore a gown of pearl-colored chamoise trimmed in silver lace and corsage bouquet of orchids. Only relatives and intimate friends were present at the ceremony and for the reception following. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left later for a wedding trip that will include New York and Canada, and on their return will be at home in this city. The bride is a daughter of the late Thomas Moore Cullingsworth, and Mr. Brown is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Brown, who of Richmond. Some of the guests from a distance attending the marriage were: Mrs. Ida Cardwell, of Wilmington, N. C.; Miss Etta Yarrington, Austin, Texas; Miss Florence Brown, Nottingham, Eastville; Miss Martha Newton, Bennettsville, S. C.; Mrs. Charles Gilman, Brunswick, Me.; Mrs. T. Atkins, Lexington, Ky.; Miss Mary Wilson, Germantown, Pa.; Alexander Yarrington, Baltimore; Clarence Brown, Mitchell; Charles J. Ford, Round Hill, Va.; Walter Wilson, Washington, and T. H. Nottingham, Eastville.

Bates-Coble.
The marriage of Miss Laura S. Coble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coble, of Richmond, to George Harwood Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Bates, also of this city, was celebrated yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 2507 Floyd Avenue, Rev. James V. Fair, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Ambury Christian, D. D., officiating. The house was decorated most effectively in palms, ferns and lighted candles, and the mantels were banked in ferns and flowers. The chandeliers were draped in Southern smilax, and pink flowers were used on the table in the dining-room. Miss Mary Lewis rendered the wedding music, and Charlotte and Frank Kersey Bates held the ribbons through the ceremony. The bride entered with her father, who gave her away. She wore a traveling costume of tulle de negre brown cloth, with a hat of the same shade, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The dame of honor, Mrs. Zed Griffith, of Thomasville, N. C., was gowned in white chiffon and silk with trimmings of Quaker lace and pearls.

Mrs. Cullingsworth, who received with the bride party after the ceremony, wore a gown of pearl-colored chamoise trimmed in silver lace and corsage bouquet of orchids. Only relatives and intimate friends were present at the ceremony and for the reception following. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left later for a wedding trip that will include New York and Canada, and on their return will be at home in this city. The bride is a daughter of the late Thomas Moore Cullingsworth, and Mr. Brown is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Brown, who of Richmond. Beauty a Sacred Trust

By LILLIAN RUSSELL.

Did it ever occur to you that beauty is a sacred trust? If you are endowed with only a few charms, it is certainly your duty to cultivate and protect them. The most beautiful rose is the one which is cultivated. The horticulturist has taken the coarsest weed and developed it into a beautiful flower. He gives it the closest attention and unwavering care, developing each detail by thoroughly studied cultivation.

Woman is often compared to a flower, and her charms can be developed just as well. Every woman can find a pleasing and helpful lesson in the work of the horticulturist. She can tint her pallid cheek with the coloring of health. The flabby flesh can be made solid, and the body symmetrical and graceful.

The cultivation of beauty and charm may be due to vanity—an empty pride inspired by an overweening conceit in one's personal appearance, traits, or characteristics—but such cultivation is not always so inspired. It is more often the result of an appreciation of the gifts of nature and a desire to be true to a trust.

Elizabeth: Yes, an egg shampoo is fine for blonde hair. If you are satisfied with this shampoo I see no reason for changing it. There is nothing that will make your hair naturally wavy if it is straight. Dampen your hair just a little with water, then do it up on the old-fashioned kid curlers. Allow it to remain for a few hours or overnight. This gives a pretty wave to the hair, and the curlers are harmless. You are fortunate to have such a pretty neck. Your trouble can be remedied by a bleach. The dark ring around the throat is probably caused from wearing high collars, but this can be removed without difficulty. Send me a stamped addressed envelope and I shall send you directions for shampoo for blonde hair and bleach for your neck. This bleach also may be used for tanned arms.

B. C.: Deep breathing will help to fill out the hollows in your neck. Eat fattening foods, drink a glass of cream daily, and rub the following cream into your neck: Two ounces cocoa butter, two ounces lanolin, and two ounces olive oil. Rub well into the hollows. This is also good for fattening the arms. Massage with a wringing, twisting motion. Any exercise that involves the muscles of the arms will develop them.

Lillian Russell's Answers.
Mrs. L. W.: The hair frequently comes out after an illness such as you have had. As long as there are new hairs coming in all the time there is little for you to worry about, for your scalp seems to be in a healthy condition. Use a good hair tonic and scalp massage, and I am sure in a short time you can stop the falling hair. I am sending you formula for an excellent hair tonic, with full directions for scalp massage. I am sure it will help you.

Fred: Indeed I do receive many letters from men, and I am just as glad to help them all I can as I am my women readers. If your complexion is dark I would advise a bleach. Here is a good one, and I am sure it will help you: One-quarter ounce peroxide of hydrogen, quarter ounce peroxide of hydrogen, and three ounces witch hazel. Mix ingredients together and apply to face and neck daily. Allow it to dry on, then apply a good cold cream. In a short time you will see a great improvement in your skin.

"No Alum"

must be the watchword when the housewife buys baking powder.

Alum is well known to be a powerful astringent, and should never be used in food.

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M. D., of the University of Pennsylvania, says: "I consider the use of alum baking powder highly injurious to health."

Food economy now, more than ever, demands the purchase and use of those food articles of known high quality and absolute purity and healthfulness.
